Maxine Skerrett is a Coach and Speaker with a passion for helping individuals and teams unlock their full potential. Maxine works with people at all stages of their career and across industries, empowering them to perform at their best. Her areas of focus are productivity, collaboration, mindset, employee engagement, and leadership development.

Maxine is a former Management Consultant with Accenture and has extensive experience working with executive teams of Fortune 500 companies. Prior to that, she worked as a supply chain leader in the aerospace and defense industry. She brings more than 15 years of experience of consulting and industry expertise in strategy and operations.

Maxine has a bachelor's degree in business administration and an executive MBA. She obtained her coaching certification from Erickson College International and holds the Associate Certified Coach (ACC) designation from the International Coach Federation (ICF). She is a Gallup-Certified Strengths Coach and has worked with many teams to discover and leverage their strengths at work.

When she is not working, Maxine can be found spending time with her family, playing video games or training for her next running race.
