Hugh Lawson is a Speaker and the Director of Client Development. Hugh is a purpose-driven leader and lifelong learner who helps people achieve and exceed their productivity, collaboration, mindset and wellbeing goals.

With over 20 years of experience working for large organizations across the globe, Hugh captivates his audiences through his authentic storytelling, passion, and humour.

Previously, Hugh led a team responsible for growth at one of Canada's largest networks of mental health and addiction treatment centres. As part of the senior leadership team, Hugh was a trusted advisor and people-centric leader. He provided guidance, support and mentorship to many national groups, across the organization, including the business development, military, veterans, first responders, and alumni teams.

In his other senior leadership roles, Hugh was instrumental in organizational strategic plans, and growth objectives, as well as competitive intelligence and business improvement.

Outside of work, Hugh is passionate about community investment, volunteerism, mentorship, supporting student athletics, and social justice. Hugh is a devoted father of two and lives on the outskirts of Toronto with wife Nadine and Miles, a precocious Bichon Poodle.
